ANNOUNCEMENT

GambleAware announces funding for new PhD call

London, 22 March: GambleAware has announced that it will fund a new PhD project to boost Great Britain's problem gambling research capacity. Funding totalling just over £60,000 will be provided to the successful applicant over a period of three years.

Projects will be related to GambleAware's aims, objectives and programme themes, and support the National Responsible Gambling Strategy – which includes developing understanding of specific areas of gambling-related harm.

The deadline for written applications is 31 May 2018 and funding will be in effect from autumn 2018. Anyone interested in applying should visit the GambleAware website at <http://about.gambleaware.org/research/research-projects/> or send any queries by email to commissioning@gambleaware.org.

Clare Wyllie, Director of Research and Evaluation, said:

“This is one important way we get new researchers involved in gambling studies and build the field. We welcome applications from across disciplines. This year we are especially interested in proposals that give insight into gambling-related harm, that draw on the lived experience of people affected by gambling and which pay attention to seldom heard groups”.

About GambleAware:

- Guided by the National Responsible Gambling Strategy, GambleAware is an independent charity tasked to fund research, education and treatment services to help minimise gambling-related harm in Great Britain.
- GambleAware is a commissioning and grant-making body, not a provider of services. The charity's strategic aim is to broaden public understanding of gambling-related harm as a public health issue and to help those that do develop problems get the support and help that they need quickly and effectively. For more information, please go to: <http://about.gambleaware.org/>
- GambleAware's programme of treatment, education, harm prevention and research is guided by the National Responsible Gambling Strategy, which is defined by the independent Responsible Gambling Strategy Board (RGSB) and endorsed by the Gambling Commission. The RGSB, the Gambling Commission and GambleAware work together under the terms of an agreement in place since 2012: <http://about.gambleaware.org/media/1216/statementofintent.pdf>. Research is conducted under the terms of a 'Research Commissioning and Governance Procedure' agreed in 2016 by the RGSB, the Gambling Commission and GambleAware: <http://about.gambleaware.org/media/1270/research-commissioning-and-governance-procedure-may-2016-final.pdf>.
- GambleAware requires a minimum of £10 million annually to deliver its current responsibilities, and looks to all those that profit from commercial gambling to support the charity. This donation-based system was proposed under the Gambling Act 2005 and is prescribed by the Gambling Commission in its Licence Conditions and Codes of Practice. The RGSB endorsed GambleAware's £10m funding goal in January 2017: <http://www.rgsb.org.uk/press-releases/responsible-gambling-strategy-board-publishes-assessment-of-the-quantum-of-funding-required-to-deliver-the-national-responsible-gambling-strategy.html>
- GambleAware funds the Gordon Moody Association, the NHS National Problem Gambling Clinic, GamCare and a network of charities across Great Britain to provide a full range of free treatment for problem gamblers and support for those affected by them. GambleAware also runs the website BeGambleAware.org which helps 2.7 million visitors a year, and supports the National Gambling Helpline – 0808 8020 133.
